AMERICAN INDIAN MOVEMENT

The American Indian Movement (AIM) was formed in 1968 at Minneapolis, Minnesota, as a civil rights organization with stated goals to secure Indian self-determination and to eliminate the destructive tendencies of Christianity, white oriented education and the Federal Government from Indian life, along with the yoke of the Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA).

All AIM chapters, leaders and members are not considered violence-prone; however, AIM members led by various violence-prone leaders have participated in the takeover of the BIA Building, Washington, D. C., in November, 1972, and participated in confrontations with local authorities which resulted in violence at Scottsbluff, Nebraska: the Rapid City - Custer area of South Dakota: the Occupation of Wounded Knee, South Dakota, by force of arms from February 27, 1973, through May 8, 1973. Since that time AIM leaders members and supporters have also been involved in numerous confrontations with local and Federal authorities, including the killing of a deputy sheriff in Arizona, the severe beating of two police officers in South Dakota, and extensively damaging a county courthouse at Sioux Falls, South Dakota. Other incidents which AIM has been a party to included the takeover of the Alexian Brothers Novitiate, Gresham, Wisconsin, the Fairchild Plant, Shiprock, New Mexico, and a pork plant in Wagner, South Dakota, all occurring in early 1975.

Two Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) Agents were ambushed and slain on June 26, 1975, on the Pine Ridge, South Dakota, Indian Reservation. On November 25, 1975, four members of AIM were indicted in connection with the murders of the Agents.

During the 1973 Wounded Knee occupation, Vernon Bellecourt, a national AIM leader, was touring the country promising that AIM was going to be present for the nation's birthday party and would "blow the candles out of the cake." This statement has been made or alluded to by AIM leadership on numerous occasions since that time. Additionally, information has been received indicating that AIM is planning a "headline-gripping" incident during the Bicentennial.

On November 14, 1975, an Oregon state trooper, pursuant to an all-points-bulletin, stopped a Dodge mobile home near the Oregon - Idaho border. Two female Indians, a child and a male individual, subsequently identified as Leonard Peltier, militant AIM member and Federal fugitive wanted for the June 26, 1975, slaying of the FBI Agents at Pine Ridge and other crimes, exited the vehicle on command of the Oregon State Police officer. Peltier then fired at the officer and fled. The mobile home driven by an unknown occupant later believed to be Dennis James Banks, national AIM leader, departed. When subsequently located and searched, the mobile home and vehicles accompanying it were found to contain 14 assorted handguns, rifles and shotguns, including a revolver which belonged to one of the slain FBI Agents. Approximately 2,500 rounds of assorted ammunition plus bomb-making paraphernalia, safety fuse, and nonelectric blasting caps were also located. One of the vehicles contained seven 50 lb. cases of dynamite and bomb-making paraphernalia. Investigation determined that on November 14, 1975, these vehicles stopped at a gas station at Baker, Oregon, and one of the occupants requested a Bicentennial map of either Idaho or Utah. Further inventory of items located in the mobile home revealed a ticket stub for the Freedom Train at Seattle, Washington, dated October 31, 1975. Also located was a souvenir leaflet containing the history of the Bicentennial Wagon Train and a map of the routes and dates that the Wagon Trains would be in certain cities in the United States. Also located was a piece of paper containing handwriting which listed the same towns and dates as those indicated for the Bicentennial Wagon Trains.

Banks and Peltier have since been arrested. Banks is presently free on bond while Peltier is awaiting extradition from Canada. Since AIM has no formal membership list, assessment of membership cannot be made.
